

DEATH AND VIOLENCE CREEP INTO FARM STRIKE

NATION WATCHES NEW YORK CITY POLL TOMORROW

Each Of Three Mayoralty Candidates Expressed Confidence

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The New York City mayoral campaign closed today after an uproarious three-cornered race fought out amid the uncertainties of national political cross currents and the confusion of tangled party allegiances.

A banker, a Tammany politician and the son of an immigrant Italian bandmaster are the principles. Tomorrow, some 2,300,000 voters will choose among Joseph V. McKee, independent Democrat running on the ticket of the "Recovery Party," Mayor John P. O'Brien the regular Democratic nominee; and former Representative Fiorello H. LaGuardia, progressive Republican on the fusion ticket.

All three candidates laid claim to victory. LaGuardia said he would win by a 650,000 plurality. Mayor O'Brien put his margin of victory at 499,000, while McKee predicted his election by 300,000 votes.

Candidates Work Sunday

LaGuardia, at a rally at the Hippodrome last night, asserted: "We have the enemy retreating. We have both enemies on the run."

O'Brien spent thirteen hours campaigning yesterday, making fourteen speeches. He reiterated his stand against further pay cuts for city employees.

McKee criticized Samuel Seabury fusion leader, who, he asserted, is coming out of this campaign with a great deal less public respect than when he went into it, because he has lowered his standards.

Not since John Purroy Mitchell won over Charles C. Murphy's Tammany machine in 1914 has the Wigwag of the Schemers been under such searching fire. "Bossism" and "economy" have again sounded as the rallying cries of Tammany's foes.

National Complexion

A national complexion was given to the local fight by McKee's espousal of President Roosevelt's name and Postmaster General Farley's personal endorsement of the Recovery candidate.

While the White House has remained aloof, the campaign developed the underlying issue of administration retaliation against Tammany for its support of Alfred E. Smith in the Chicago convention.

Smith himself broke a precedent of 16 years when he refused to support Tammany Hall from the platform of this year. Politically, Al has been "out of town" since the fight began.

The future of John P. Curry, tactician Tammany leader, rests in the outcome of tomorrow's balloting.

Tammany's 145 years of existence is told in the biographies of many men—"Honest John" Kelly, Chas. F. Murphy, "Big Tim" Sullivan, "Boss" Tweed, Dick Crocker.

Other Veterans Recall Henry Ward Beecher and Thomas Nast sent Tweed to prison. The late Charles H. Parkhurst led a successful fight from the pulpit against Crocker.

Seabury, who has been leading the fusion campaign forces, laid the foundation for a fusion attack in his prosecution of the city inquiry with its "tin box" exposures and the resignation of Mayor Jimmy Walker while under fire.

Seabury has sought to link both McKee and O'Brien with the investigations; McKee, because he was president of the Board of Aldermen for several years and Acting Mayor in the interim between Walker's resignation and O'Brien's election a year ago.

In retaliation against charges of administration ambitions, in this direction, the McKee forces accuse LaGuardia of acting for the Republican party in furthering alleged presidential ambitions of Ogden L. Mills, Hoover's last Secretary of the Treasury.

Japs Deny Planes Flew Over Siberia

Tokyo, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The War office directed to Moscow today a flat denial of Soviet reports that Japanese flew over Russian territory.

"A few Japanese Army planes are assisting in bandit-suppression operations near Manchoukou's eastern frontier," a spokesman for the War Office said.

But, he added, they "have been ordered to keep within a line two kilometers inside the border."

"Furthermore, there are never more than two or three on any flight—never such a number of Soviet reports alleged."

The report at Moscow was that a squadron of Japanese military aircraft, including eight scouting craft and one bomber, flew over Soviet territory November 3.

Recent archeological discoveries in Utah have revealed a three-story cliff containing hundreds of rooms; scientists now believe that apartment houses were known and used by the ancient Indian races.

Niagara Little More Than A Creek

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Unless the flow of water down the Niagara River increases, Niagara Falls stands a good chance of going completely dry. Very little water is going over the falls now and generally roaring cataract has a strange appearance with many unfamiliar rocks exposed to view. The water level in the gorge below the falls is twenty feet lower than it was last week.

The reason for this mere trickle is a stiff east wind which has pushed the water back into Lake Erie and has reduced the Niagara River to hardly more than a creek.

'Buy Now' Drive Receding, Borah Tells Constituents

Parma, Ida., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The administration's "buy now" campaign "is not progressing at all; it is receding," asserts Senator William E. Borah of Idaho. And to stop a "brazen program of exploitation" through high prices, he has gone on record for restoration and enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

"We are gathering the fruits, in a large measure, of the mistaken act in suspending the anti-trust laws last winter," the independent Republican told a rural western Idaho audience here Sunday night.

"It should not have been done," he said in referring to the unenforced anti-trust provisions. "The people are paying for that mistake now. It was assumed that the public would be protected through these (NRA) codes, but that assumption was based upon wrong premises and was made without a sufficient desire to restrain monopolies."

Senator Borah again urged use of broader metallic base for the both gold and silver to provide a monetary system, declaring: "That upon that broad base sufficient currency could be provided with which to meet the situation."

Mrs. Elb. Raymond Passed Away Sunday At Owatonna, Minn.

Mrs. Elbert Raymond of Owatonna, Minn., formerly Miss Elsie Remmers of Grand Detour, passed away in an Owatonna hospital at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, local relatives were advised this morning.

The body will be brought to Dixon, arriving tomorrow, and burial services will take place at Grand Detour Wednesday afternoon, the hour to be announced later.

Mrs. Raymond, who left Dixon with her husband and family about three years ago, is survived by Mr. Raymond, three children; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Remmers of Grand Detour; and a sister, Mrs. John Hetler of R. F. D. 3.

Unemployed To Get Jobs During Rush In Postal Service

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley will play Santa Claus to the needy unemployed, especially those with families, in distributing the 1933 Christmas rush mail jobs.

Postmasters were directed today to cooperate with relief agencies and veteran organizations in selecting this temporary help.

Carrier deliveries and window service will be suspended on Sunday, Dec. 24, and Christmas Day, this December. This will leave only special and perishable mail deliveries on Christmas and the day before.

25 Injured In Bus Accident In East

Burlington, N. J., Nov. 6.—(AP)—At least 25 persons were injured, two critically early today, as a Philadelphia-New York bus and an automobile collided and two trucks crashed into the wreckage. Those most badly hurt were Emma Gill of Camden, and William O'Connor of Philadelphia, who received fractured skulls.

Panama Canal traffic is lightest in August and heaviest in December.

Half Of Employees Of Ford Plant At River Rouge Laid Off Today To Bring Hours Within NRA Code

Detroit, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Half the men employed at the Ford Motor Company's River Rouge plant here were laid off today, in accordance with a recent company announcement that it planned to bring average working hours within the NRA auto code of 35 a week.

Company officials, while declaring that "half the men are being laid off," did not give the exact figures as to total employment in the plant. In their announcement of the layoff plan made last week they said that 9,000 men would be laid off, probably for seven days. The last official figure given by the company for total employment at the plant some weeks ago, was 45,000.

It was stated that when the working hours of the men laid off today have been brought within the regulations of the auto code, the rest of the employees will be given a similar layoff.

The company has been operating on a 40-hour-week basis, and several weeks ago announced that this week-week would be adjusted to the prescribed 35-hour schedule.

MILITARY PLANE FALLS ON HOUSE; SIX KNOWN DEAD

Famous Aerial Photographer-Pilot Of Ill-fated Ship

Shrewsbury, N. J., Nov. 6.—(AP)—An airplane accident which sent a National Guard craft smashing down into a bungalow killing two airmen, and at least four persons in the house, was under four-fold investigation today.

While police searched the blackened ruins of the bungalow for a possible seventh victim, the inquiry was started by the National Guard, the Department of Commerce county detectives and state officials.

The crash, which was followed by a terrific explosion as the plane plowed down to the basement, brought flaming death to:

Lt. George R. Johnson, 32, South American explorer and noted aerial photographer.

Sgt. Alfred Poole, 36, June King, 5, Patricia King, 3, Edward Wilson, 38, Cora Ragland, 35.

Four Were Negroes The last four named were all Negroes. They were trapped as the flames, resulting from a gasoline explosion, destroyed their flimsy home.

Police feared that the children's mother, Mrs. Margaret King, 28, was also a victim, although there was one report that she was not at home when the accident occurred.

Taking off from Red Bank airport for a photographic flight, the plane soon got out of control. It plunged through the rear wall of the King bungalow. The roof and wall splintered and collapsed, then the plane's tank exploded with a roar, and in a moment, the house was a pyre.

MUSSOLINI GETS HIMSELF COUPLE MORE MINISTRIES

Il Duce Now Has Six Of Thirteen Portfolio Positions

Rome, Nov. 6.—(AP)—King Victor Emmanuel made Premier Mussolini Minister of both the Navy and the Air today after accepting the resignations of Air Marshal Italo Balbo and Admiral Giuseppe Sirianni.

At the same time, the King named General Valle Under-Secretary of the Air and Admiral Cavignari Under-Secretary of the Navy.

Balbo was named Governor of Libya, taking the place of Marshal Badoglio.

Premier Mussolini sent both Balbo and Admiral Sirianni a cordial autographed letter thanking them for their long and loyal cooperation.

The King's decree accepted the resignation of Under-Secretary Russo of the Navy and Under-Secretary Riccardi of the Air.

Hold Six Ministries The wording of the decree indicated that the military ministries of the Air, Navy and War will not be combined, as at first believed.

It was thought, however, that this was probable at some later period when Mussolini becomes Minister of National Defense.

Admiral Sirianni becomes president of the Cogne company, large iron ore miners in Upper Italy.

Premier Mussolini now holds six ministries: Foreign Affairs, Interior, War, Navy, Air and Communications and Public Works.

There are seven he does not occupy, namely, Colonies, Justice, Finance, Education, Agriculture, Communications and Public Works.

The municipality of Chicoutimi, Que. has received donations of considerable sums of money from Campette, a professional beggar in Quebec; Campette owns a block of houses in the French quarter of the latter city and claims Chicoutimi as his birthplace.

Panama Canal traffic is lightest in August and heaviest in December.

RFC PURCHASES OF GOLD TOTAL THREE MILLIONS

Price Offered By U. S. Advanced Again This Morning

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A price of $32.84 an ounce was announced today for R. F. C. purchase of domestic newly mined gold, 17 cents higher than on Saturday. It was revealed that $2,800,000 has been paid out in purchases of the domestic metal.

The figure was 38 cents above the quotation for gold in London translated into dollars at an exchange rate of $4.92½, a record low point reached at 2 P. M., London time today.

Although the British price for gold actually declined 6½ pence, the weakness of the dollar resulted in an advance in the dollar price of gold at London from $32.08 Saturday to $32.46 today.

The opinion was expressed in British circles that the London exchange movements might be linked with the sale of $300,000 in bar gold today to unrevealed ultimate buyers.

An air of unusual mystery centered in this purchase as the brokers declined even to hint at its destination.

There seemed to be a strong feeling the buying might be on American account but there was no definite corroborative proof.

Minn. Mortgage Moratorium Law Before High Court

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme Court of the United States will hear arguments tomorrow on the validity of the Minnesota mortgage moratorium law, the first test of an "emergency" measure to come before that court since the New York war-time rent laws were upheld.

The Court's decision will be far-reaching, says Harry H. Peterson, Minnesota Attorney General, because similar laws protecting the mortgagors from foreclosure have been passed in other states. The Minnesota law was upheld in the Supreme Court of that state after the District Court of Hennepin county had found it unconstitutional.

Free Lavatories At Big Fair Next Year Being Planned

Chicago, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A lot of nickel turnstiles will be out of a job when and if the World's Fair opens in 1934.

The public lavatories and toilets will be free, thus removing one of the pet annoyances of the fair visitors.

The exposition management has announced that the contract of the Brooks Contracting Company, which operated the lavatories as a concession, will not be renewed in 1934 and the facilities will be operated free by the fair itself.

The latest audit of the Brooks Company showed its income for the services this year was $758,210.

Nebraska Farmer Killed When Speeding Auto Ran Into Group of Pickets

Governors of the Mid-West States To Appeal To Congress

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Death, violence, and destruction of property, brought a new tenseness to the farm strike today.

A Nebraska farmer was killed near Dakota City, Neb. last night, when a speeding automobile crashed into a group of pickets clustered around a parked truck. Five were injured.

Eight carloads of livestock were raided by pickets near Lawton, Ia., and the stock turned loose after the NorthWestern train had been halted by a huge pile of railroad ties on the tracks.

Picketing flared anew in Wisconsin. Forty thousand pounds of milk were dumped. Telephone wires were cut.

Ready For Clash Pickets and anti-picketing forces massed at the Plattsmouth, Neb. bridge over the Missouri river ready to clash. Governor Herring of Iowa announced the state was ready "to step in" if county peace officers were unable to handle the situation.

The death of Frank Fletcher of Homer, Neb., brought to two the fatalities since the national farm embargo was declared more than two weeks ago. The other fatality occurred recently in Wisconsin.

Two Men Held Fletcher died before emergency treatment could be administered. The injured included three pickets: William Winget, 58, Winnebago; John Pallas, 42, Thurston; and Jerry Philipp, 22, Walthall. Harry Jackson, Emerson, who police said was the driver of the car, was held after the crash together with a companion, Henry Mertens. Both were slightly injured.

Sheep and cattle wandered the streets of Lawton after a crowd of more than 200 pickets broke into a Chicago & NorthWestern livestock train, bound for a Sioux City market, from Pierson, finally halting it at the Lawton depot with a track blockade.

JOHNSON SEEKS TRUCE Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An earnest two-way Federal attempt was under way today to win at least a truce with striking farmers.

High Commissioner Johnson, NRA Administrator, left other things to his aides while he went to Chicago for the first speech on a peace-seeking tour of the farm belt. Agriculture officials at the same time put into effect and sought to develop a corn-hog program to help farmers in the corn country.

Johnson planned to extend this week's tour to Minneapolis, Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City, Tulsa, Fort Worth and Louisville. Secretary Wallace on Saturday will address farmers and business men in Des Moines.

Before Johnson left Washington, neither he nor Wallace made public comment on the farm program presented Saturday by five mid-west Governors and rejected by President Roosevelt.

New Taxes In Effect But two new processing taxes were in effect today, on schedule, to raise money which is to be turned over to farmers who agree to reduce crops.

One was 5 cents a bushel on corn; that will be raised to 20 cents December 1. The other was an increase of 50 cents a hundredweight, increasing gradually to $2 by February 1. To obtain part of the $350,000,000 in payments, farmers must agree to reduce next year's corn acreage 20 per cent and marketed hog tonnage 25 per cent.

With more than 25,000,000 of the nation's farm population of 32,000,000 already affected by the farm adjustment program, there was every indication that the administration intended to adhere to a development of that, hoping, meanwhile, that farmers could be convinced they should wait a little longer.

TO GO TO CONGRESS St. Paul, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Mid-west Governors and farm leaders will carry their fight for an agricultural price fixing and marketing control program to Congress over President Roosevelt's refusal to approve such a plan, Governor Floyd B. Olson said today.

Returning from Washington, where the relief program presented by him and four other Governors was rejected, Olson said the farm front is solid and the Governors are unwavering in their demands.

He said they would meet again soon and invite executives of other agricultural states to join them, in preparing a program for presentation to Congress in January.

Olson said he believed President Roosevelt was convinced the present administration farm relief plan, hinging on success of acreage allotments, vorenment purchases, and processing taxes, will not work.

TEXAS GUINAN'S BIZARRE CAREER ENDED BY DEATH

Queen Of Night Clubs Died In Vancouver, B. C. Yesterday

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The bizarre career of Texas Guinan has been ended by death.

Far from the glittering Broadway where she found fortune, the queen of the night clubs died yesterday after an operation necessitated by an intestinal illness with which she was stricken a month ago.

She had been making a theatrical tour with her troupe of forty girls and entered a hospital here last Monday suffering from colitis. She had been stricken in Portland, Ore., a month ago, but had carried on until the pain forced her to leave the show.

Until Saturday she made satisfactory progress, but then complications set in, an operation was performed and she sank rapidly to her death. She lost consciousness several hours before the end came.

Her Last Wreckage A member of her troupe disclosed that one of her last wisecracks after she was stricken was: "No, I'm not dead. Like the blue eagle, I am on my way to recovery."

By her death, the night life of New York lost one of its most distinctive personalities, for she was in a class by herself. There was only one Texas Guinan and that meant sharp wisecracks, raucous gaiety, rosy mirth.

Strangely enough, her death came with the end of the prohibition era during which she rose to prominence along the Great White Way. She blossomed out as a night club hostess in 1922, about the time when hip flasks and night clubs were gaining new popularity. During her career on Broadway she presided over nearly a dozen night clubs, most of which were padlocked by dry agents. Many times she found herself in court on charges of liquor law violations, but she always wisecracked her way out.

Everybody Was "Sucker" "Everybody was a 'sucker' to Texas Guinan and they all loved it. One of her most famous expressions was "come on, suckers, give this little girl a hand!" after one of her girls had performed with song and dance. She was also credited with authorship of the phrase "butter and egg man."

Texas Guinan's age was not a matter of public knowledge, but she was in the neighborhood of 50. She was born Mary Louise Cecilia Guinan in Waco, Tex.

Before becoming a night club hostess, Tex was a cow girl, a "coon shouter" or torch singer, a dancer and movie actress. She made scores of western thrillers and she didn't use a double.

She did all the stunts herself. After her movie career she became a vaudeville trouper, then a night club entertainer and then famous.

She was married and divorced three times. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Guinan, a brother Tom Guinan of New York, and a sister, Mrs. George Smith of Huntington Park, Calif. The body will be taken to New York for burial.

Frank Blackburn, Former Dixonite, Died In Chicago

Andrew Phalen received word Saturday evening of the death of his nephew, Frank Blackburn, who passed away at his home in Chicago following an illness with pneumonia.

He was survived by his wife and one brother George. The deceased was a former Dixon boy and will be remembered by many here.

James Phalen, Ben C. John and Thomas Blackburn of this city are uncles of the deceased. Funeral services will be conducted in Chicago Tuesday morning with interment in the Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Chicago Woman, Step-Sister Of Convicted Police-Slayer, Kills Her Husband, Who Had Been With Rival

Chicago, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Otto Kropp, 39, an electrician, was shot four times and killed by his wife early today when he returned home after visiting a beer tavern with another woman.

Mrs. Kropp, whose step-brother, John Bongiorno, is serving a 199-year prison term for murder, was arrested as she ran wildly down the street screaming that she would kill Grace Fisher, Kropp's companion of a new hours earlier.

"He struck me several times when I told him he must stay away from other women," Mrs. Kropp told police.

"I grabbed a butcher knife to defend myself. He wrestled it away and I got the pistol from my daughter's room because I was afraid he would kill me."

Bongiorno was sentenced for killing a policeman in a robbery. Ross King, another defendant in the case, was executed for the slaying.

Mrs. Kropp's statement that she fired in self defense was corroborated by her daughter, Theresa, 19, a witness. Mrs. Kropp said her husband refused to come away from the tavern with her.

Chinese Girl Is Wedded to Rooster

Canton, China, Nov. 6.—(AP)—A wedding in which a pretty Cantonese girl married a rooster was solemnized today.

Although her fiancé, Shih Kwang Tung, was living in Singapore, the girl's parents decided her marriage must be performed while they were still alive.

Accordingly, a graceful appearing bird from a neighboring poultry farm was selected to act as the bridegroom.

All of the elaborate ritual accompanying an old-fashioned Chinese marriage was observed while the beautiful bride, 18 years old, received the congratulations of friends, and the rooster must remain her "husband."

The animal did not appear frightened and crossing the highway, leaped over the wire fences, entering a timber section and was gone.

REPEAL LEADERS EXPECT VICTORY IN POLL TUESDAY

Only Three Of The Half Dozen States Voting Are Needed

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Six states decide tomorrow whether prohibition shall be expunged from the Federal constitution the first week in December.

The Roosevelt administration confidently believes it will, Postmaster General Farley predicting in New York that "this great victory x x x will be accomplished Tuesday."

But Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, asserted that the women "can win if they'll go to the polls and vote against repeal."

The states balloting are Pennsylvania, Ohio, North and South Carolina, Utah and Kentucky. Only three need to elect a majority of anti-prohibition delegates to state conventions set for December—33 states already have voted that way.

Other Issues Involved Other questions, too, will be considered. New York and New Jersey elect members to the state assemblies, now controlled by Republicans. New York City chooses a mayor, one of whom has Farley's personal endorsement.

Virginia elects a Governor and a United States Senator. Kentucky members of the legislature, who considers state repeal and old age pensions, Pennsylvania unemployment relief.

Woodworth P. T. A. in Its Second Meeting

The Woodworth P. T. A. held its second meeting at the school Friday evening, Nov. 3. A bountiful and delicious picnic supper was enjoyed at 6:30. After supper, Mrs. Hoon had carefully planned an advertising contest. The prize winners were Mr. Cramer and Miss Charlotte Risley.

Mrs. Meeks, the president, presided at the meeting. The reports from the various committees were given as follows:

Secretary, Miss Goldie Gigous.

Finance, Miss Alice Crandall.

Community service, Mrs. Hoyle.

Program, Mrs. Hoon.

Mrs. Meeks complimented the ladies for the fine supper and introduced the speaker for the evening, Supt. Lancaster.

Supt. Lancaster chose for his topic, "Problems and Advantages of P. T. A." and spoke briefly on life itself, and the slow change there was in it. He stressed the objectives of education:

1. Good health habits.

2. Mastery of certain tools and skills.

3. Worthy home membership.

4. Worthy use of leisure time.

5. Ethical character.

6. Good citizenship.

To bring about these objectives there must be cooperation, between the home and school, which may come through an organization of the P. T. A.

Will the P. T. A. contribute to these aims? It was first agreed that the school and home should agree on a definite program. The home can interpret school to a child and vice versa. The P. T. A. will be an avenue through which parents learn and should know how the school is financed. Supt. Lancaster closed the address with a brief summary.

Mrs. Meeks opened the meeting to questions or suggestions to which responses were given. The men were especially complimented for representing such a large part of the P. T. A. members present. The next meeting will be in December. Watch for the date and plan to attend. Santa may be there.

5 egg whites beaten

1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Remove seeds from prunes, add sugar, prune juice and lemon juice and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cool. Fold in rest of ingredients, pour into buttered baking dish (glass suggested). Set in a pan of hot water and bake 50 minutes in slow oven. Cool and serve plain or with cream.

Resume Of Girl Scout Activities Is of Interest

Troop I, The Gypsies

At the last October meeting the troops rehearsed camp fire songs under the direction of Miss Margaret Ballou. New girls were chosen to take part in the camp fire stunt. The troop was happy to receive a new lieutenant, Mrs. Frank Kingsley.

The Thrift meeting on November 1 was a great success. Troop II was invited to attend the meeting and nearly thirty girls were present. After the usual business, the troops gathered in a double circle to sing. Miss Emily Herrington played two selections on the piano. Miss Anna Marie Crabtree told the group how a girl of her age could help the family to be thrifty. Mrs. Joseph Crawford was the first speaker of the day. Her message to the girls was the necessity for economy in cooking and the value of starting a cookbook of safe recipes to keep from wasting materials.

Mrs. Wilbur Hart next told the troops how important proper use of energy is in adult life and the need of being thrifty with one's time. Miss Esther Barton discussed the value of correct dress and how to dress economically choosing clothing by careful consideration.

The surprise feature of the program was a thrifty play written by Miss Dorothy Dodd, the captain. The following girls took part: Garland Knight, Vivian White, Marion Giannoni, Pauline Blackburn, Mary Jane Hoberg and Elinor Dodd.

The best surprise of all was the treat prepared by the captain, Miss Ruth Kerz, and Dorothy Dodd.

The troop adjourned to Kivimäki park where they toasted marshmallows to make samosas. Taps were sung and the meeting was ended.

The Foresters.

Reporter—Marilee Burns

Scout troop No. 4 of the north side met Monday evening, Oct. 23 in the North Central school. Mrs. Locket, lieutenant of the troop, was in charge of the meeting due to the absence of the captain, Miss Eleanor Clayton. Mrs. Locket gave important announcements concerning Girl Scout Week. Miss Marilee Burns was elected reporter. After the patrol business a nature beauty show was held. Miss Patsy Alexander's exhibit, a Chinese garden, was chosen the best and Miss Nancy Warner's exhibit of a bird's nest was very interesting. The Scouts' hymn was learned. Taps were sung and the meeting adjourned.

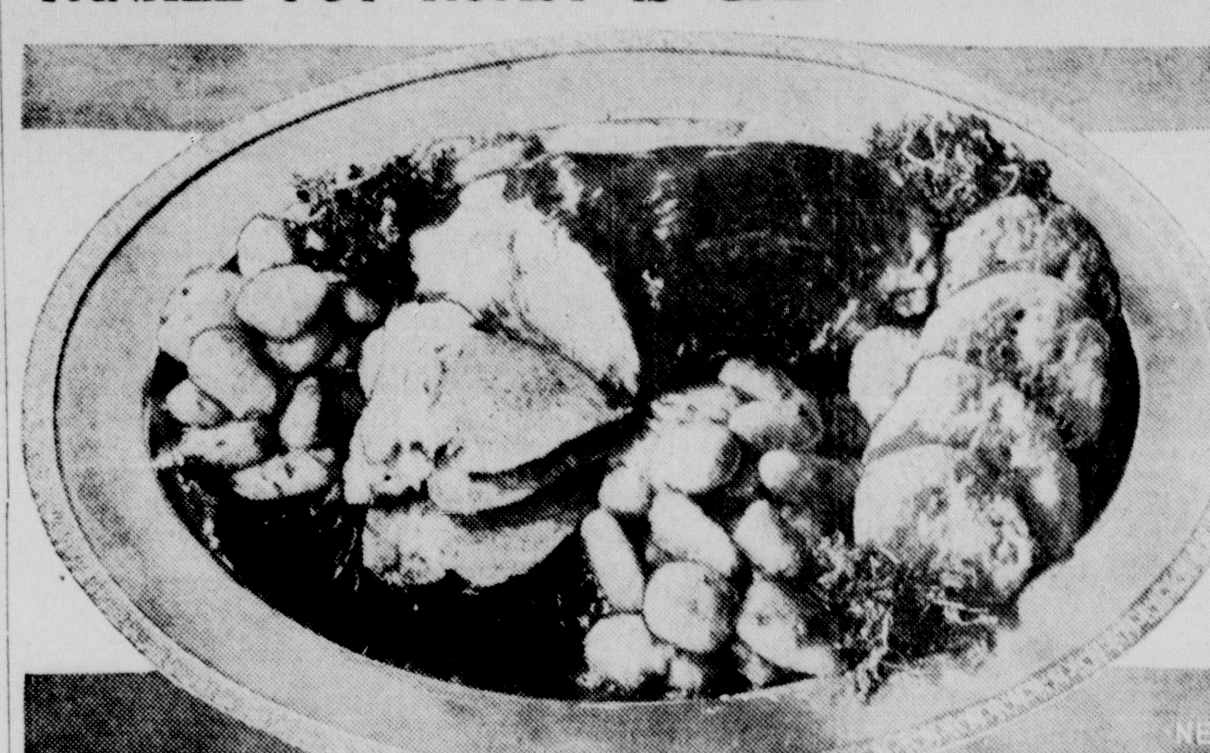

During Girl Scout Week troop IV gave a great proof of its ability in being thrifty. The Girl Scout Lit. book was thoroughly cleaned and windows and floors washed, then matted, and curtains washed. The troop committee—Mrs. Harry Warner, Mrs. Counterman, Mrs. Walter Smith and Mrs. Frank Thomas gave short talks on household hints. A marshmallow roast ended the day. During the afternoon the troop had many visitors to watch their activities.

Troop V, The Indians

Reporter—Jeanne Ramebeau

The Oct. 24 meeting opened with a formal ceremony. All girls formed a semi-circle to sing "America." After that several important topics were discussed by Mrs. Hoppers. The usual business was carried on in the patrol corner. The rest of the meeting was spent practicing the Scout hymn and

YANKEE POT ROAST IS GREAT THIS WAY!

Nutmeg, Puree Give New Zest To Old Dish

By NEA Service—

There's a vogue for old-fashioned, substantial recipes this winter. But most of them are dressed up in new ways to give them a little added zest and an air of novelty.

Yankee pot roast is one dish which is sure to please the family. Using a little nutmeg and herbs for seasoning and making the gravy with puree of tomato instead of plain water changes your old recipe and introduces variety into your menu.

It's a perfect dish for Sunday dinner and there is sure to be some left to slice cold for sandwiches in the evening and the children's lunches Monday.

It is possible to prepare the same old vegetables in a new way occasionally. Potato pancakes can be substituted for the usual boiled or mashed ones, and carrots cut in interesting shapes and sizes tend to whet lagging appetites.

Take a four-pound piece of round of beef and season with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Fry in its own fat in a shallow pan until all sides are browned. Add two medium size onions, and a few carrots cut in slices, saute in the fat from the meat and then add four tablespoons of flour and simmer for ten minutes.

Place the meat in a sauce pan, add vegetables, two pints of puree of tomato and water to cover the meat. Red cooking wine can be used instead of water. Put in a little garnishing such as parsley, bay leaves or thyme. Cook it all in a covered dish in the oven for two and one-half hours, or until the meat is tender.

Strain the sauce when you remove the roast from the oven. Pour it over the meat when you are ready to serve.

Potato pancakes are easy to make. Grate four large potatoes and place the pulp in a sieve to drain off the excess water. When they are quite dry, add the yolks of three eggs, one tablespoon of flour, salt and a dash of nutmeg.

Mold the mixture into small, flat pancakes and fry them in bacon fat.

Cut four large carrots into olive shapes. Parboil them in salt and water, drain and place in covered utensil with one tablespoon of butter and one teaspoon of sugar. Let them simmer until they turn a darkish golden color.

Serve the roast and the vegetables all on one platter.

Makeup Esemble For Gray Hair

Simple, soft coiffures usually are becoming to a person with gray hair. Think of your hair dress as a frame for your face and try to have one flatter the other.

Drawing the hair back into a tight knot isn't a very good idea if your hair is gray and you are a mature woman. Better to draw it loosely back and let the knot be a soft snood—perhaps a figure eight. Graceful waves around your ears and forehead will soften your features and give you a charming feminine appearance.

However, if your hair is prematurely gray, you have a chance to go in for a little sophistication. The change in color will allow you to wear it in a more exotic fashion than you did when it was black or brown. Any person under thirty who has gray hair should make the most of it. Instead of trilly clothes, wear suave, sophisticated ones with hats that expose almost all of your hair.

Your make-up becomes even more important once you get gray hair. Probably the pinkish rouges will be more becoming than darker, raspberry shades. Have your lipstick match your rouge but do not use too much of either. Subtle makeup is much nicer and more effective.

If you continue using eye-shadow, better use a little lighter shade and be very particular about mascara or eyelash dyes. Since your hair has become a more delicate, subtle tone try and have every thing harmonize with it.

(Waterloo, Ia., Courier.)

There is an old saw to the effect that excessive kindness is not conducive to the good health of the recipient. A practical example of the way in which a superabundance of governmental benevolence may react to the disadvantage of the people governed is provided by the Tugwell bill, proposed as a substitute for the food and drug act of 1916.

Prof. Tugwell, one of President Roosevelt's few remaining "brain trusters," visions a Utopia in which there would be no need for medicine closets. In fact, if his suggestions incorporated in the Tugwell bill were to be approved by congress there would be no need for a drug store—at least that part of the drug store where pharmaceuticals are dispensed.

The complete Tugwell bill would fill approximately six or seven pages of the average standard magazine. One writer has observed that to give a fair and careful analysis of all its provisions "would require the combined efforts of six Philadelphia lawyers and an equal number of horse traders." The following quotation, however, provides a sample of one of its dangerous phases:

Section 9.—(a) An advertisement of a food, drug, or cosmetic shall be deemed to be false if in any particular it is untrue, or by ambiguity or inference creates a misleading impression regarding such food, drug, or cosmetic.

Even the layman can discern that those words "ambiguity or inference" are packed with dynamite, particularly when the interpretation of their meaning is left to the discretion of one man or a governmental bureau.

The Tugwell bill provides that:

... an advertisement of a drug shall be deemed to be false if it includes the name of any disease for which the drug is not a specific cure, but is a palliative, and fails to state with equal prominence and in immediate connection with such name that the drug is not a cure for such disease.

In view of the fact that physicians are generally agreed that there is no drug or no combination of drugs which can give a cure in 100 per cent of any number of cases considered, this provision tends to disclose the real intent of the law—to prohibit self-diagnosis and self-medication.

It is conservatively estimated that with strict enforcement of this law and a practical elimination of drug advertising, fully 30,000 drug stores would be closed within a short period of time. Ramifications of the law would affect wholesale drug houses, manufacturers of pharmaceuticals, foods, and cosmetics, to say nothing of manufacturers of glass, boxes, and tin cans.

Shakespeare observed that "The quality of mercy is not strained," but he reckoned without the quality of the mercy dispensed in the Tugwell bill. In this case it's not only strained, it's taut—taut enough to threaten a barrier to circulation of the life blood of an important American industry.

MAKING SOME PROGRESS.

The alarm sounded by the newspapers of the country over the refusal of the NRA administrator in charge of the newspaper code to permit the inclusion of a paragraph stating specifically that signing of the code shall not be interpreted as a waiver of constitutional rights of freedom of the press, is bringing results, it appears.

Prof. Lindsay Rogers, deputy administrator in charge of the newspaper code, came out to Chicago and gave some indication that if the code were tendered again with the waiver clause, it would be accepted.

Newspapers want the right to go to a court with their claims and not have a decision by a bureaucrat, a decision from which there may be no appeal, on the question of whether or not they waived their constitutional right and those of the people to have a free press.

The professor said in Chicago that he didn't like the language in which the clause was worded and he didn't like the place given it in the code. Hence it was rejected.

If the professor is the one who is doing the deciding, then the way now should be open to have the provision placed in the code. If he isn't, then there is some evidence that the clamor over the right of a free press has been heard higher up.

Professor Rogers of Columbia, who was assigned the newspaper code, is described as a likeable man of considerable ability, but one who knew nothing about the newspaper business and never met a payroll in his life.

Woe Duncy jumped up from the ground and said, "Come on, let's catch that bound. He is a very friendly fellow, but I think he is scared right now."

"He thought it was a hare, he had, until I turned into a lad. If we all circle around, I'm sure we'll capture him somehow."

"A good idea," Dotty said. "I'd like to pet him on the head. It wasn't fair to scare him, when he's really done no harm."

"I will walk right up and have some fun. I do not think that he will run, if you'll stand back. I'll show him that there's no cause for alarm."

The others watched her as she walked up to the dog. How nice she talked! "Don't scamper off, old fellow. We are friendly folks, you see."

The bound then wagged his tail a bit and Dotty grabbed a hold of it. Real shortly she exclaimed, "Oh, look! He's getting fond of me!" They all played with the pup a while. The Mystic Man then with a smile, said, "Well, let's let him run along. I have another plan."

"Into the sky you will soon be bound. You will ride until a new land's found." "Oh, goody, goody," Goldy said. "I surely hope we all can!"

They tried to shoo the dog away but he insisted that he would stay. "Well, I'll take care of him," the Mystic Man said. "What a dog!"

"I guess I'll keep him for a pet. He is the finest I've seen yet. But, come, all of you Tinsies. We must find my flying log."

The great, long log was right nearby. "You see, this sails up through the sky," the Tinsies friend exclaimed. "All you need do is hop aboard."

And so, the bunch sat side by side, and then they started on the ride. "Good luck. And have a real good time," the Mystic man then roared.

Everyday

DO YOU AGREE?

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

All men are afraid of religion, but they do not admit it. Some are afraid it is not true; others are afraid that it is.

Many people think they are "hard-boiled" when they are only "half-baked"—more things are overdone in the parlor than in the kitchen.

In some of our new novels life is a headache on a noisy street; sex and cigarettes make a chain of trivial futility.

If we are to believe the economists, the road to industrial hell is paved with good inventions; and we are on the way to it.

Our best friends are those who can stand us at our worst, and still believe that we can do and be our best.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 5.

The Golden Text was, "For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" (Romans 5:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright" (Ecclesiastes 7:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and God like" (1:200).

LIFE OF CHRIST TO BE SHOWN IN PICTURES HEREFamous Motion Picture
at M. E. Church Early Next Week

"The King of Kings," Cecil B. De Mille's outstanding motion picture dramatization, over the life, ministry, suffering, death and glorious resurrection of our dear Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, will be presented at the First M. E. church of Dixon on Sunday and Monday evenings, Nov. 12 and 13.

Last winter this program was given in about 150 different Chicago churches for thousands and thousands of people and mostly crowds had to be turned away because of lack of seating capacity. And still it goes in Chicago week after week.

"It is therefore a real opportunity," said the local pastor today, for our city and community that this program is booked here for two evenings. Many well known persons throughout the country have repeatedly made the statement, that this film production is one of the greatest features ever put on any screen in the entire world. It isn't only an entertainment, but a sermon more powerful and heart-touching than any sermon ever delivered from any pulpit. Its two hours of the most impressive and sacred worship cannot fail to give a spiritual uplift to all who see and hear it. It has also been highly recommended to the churches by prominent ministers and churchmen. There are several pictures of the life of Christ out, but none of them can be compared with "The King of Kings." Dr. S. Parks Cadman, President Federal Council of Churches of Christ says: "The King of Kings is the best and greatest motion picture in the world today and no man, woman or child should miss seeing it."

Synchronized music and sacred hymns, furnished by "Victor Sound Recording System" with loudspeakers, will follow the picture throughout.

This program will be presented here by the International Church Entertainment Assn., under direction of Rev. M. Arvid Hydehn of Sweden and it isn't given for money-making purposes. No admission fee will be charged, but the expense of bringing such a program here is quite heavy and must be met, so everybody is asked to come prepared for a generous silver offering. So it isn't a free program but a program given for a silver offering. Children under 15 should be accompanied by their parents and sit with them. Don't forget the dates and reserve these evenings to see this marvelous production.

Daily Health Talk

THE CROSS-EYED CHILD

Nowadays no child should long remain cross-eyed. For, with but few exceptions most cross-eye conditions can be corrected either medically or surgically.

During the first six months of life the eyes of the infant tend to wander. Clear vision is not established much before the first year and the focussing of both eyes on the same point develops about this period. Hence real cross-eye is usually noticed in the child 2 or 3 years of age. Children, as a rule, do not outgrow cross-eye.

What are the causes of cross-eye? One possible cause is brain injury suffered at birth. Another is injury to the muscles which surround the brain or the eye may also cause cross-eye.

The most common cause, however, is marked difference in the sight of the two eyes. When one eye is near-sighted and the other far-sighted, or when one eye is more far-sighted than the other, then objects will appear blurred in one eye and clear in the other.

When the vision in both eyes is not identical, the resulting images do not appear alike and cannot be fitted together. As a result, the better seeing eye is used exclusively and directed at objects, while the poorer eye is left to turn in or out.

Treatment of cross-eye calls first for the correction of whatever defect there may be in the patient's physical condition; secondly, for a careful examination of the eyes to determine whether correction by glasses is required.

In addition, the child must be trained to use both eyes. This training is carried on by blocking off the better eye by bandaging it, thus compelling the child to use its poor eye.

Where there are no serious defects in vision, glasses and re-training of the eyes may suffice to correct cross-eye. At times, however, we must employ surgical means to balance the muscular pull on the eyes.

PILLAR OF SALT

By L. L. R.

I don't remember right now who it was who said that music hath charms. It may have been Shakespeare, but, whoever it was, he spoke words of truth.

Armies of antiquity always sang as they marched along, as did many in the World War. Journeys do not seem so far to men who sing. The rhythm of a song reaches to the feet and spontaneously goads them to move forward in time with the tune.

No task seems difficult no obstacle unsurmountable to one whose heart beats in tune with a melody. The history of the world has doubtless been affected by music, and also by lack of it.

All words, mere words. Perhaps. But it is a rare privilege, enjoyed by columnists or paragraphers alone, which permits them to speak of many things, without being actually authorities in anything. So let's get on with our music.

Do you often think back to the earliest popular song you can remember? You should now and then. And from that point, work forward, until you come to the present day. Songs are definitely linked with periods in everyone's life. To follow the tunes of your life is to figuratively live your life again.

What a wealth of memories (some good, some bad) tunes unearth. Those of the World War stand out vividly to most of us. To some they bring sorrow, to others mental romance. And so with songs of several periods.

It might be said (if we wanted to be romantic, or perhaps trite, about it) that everyone of us has a theme song. It came to us with something we now go back to in pleasant recollections. I have such a song; so have you.

It is only fair, of course, that you be told of the occasion for all this. Well, here it is: I recently came upon a collection of old phonograph records. And, like the hero of "Turn Back the Clock," I have been born again.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger; I am the Lord your God.—Leviticus 19:10.

The charities that sooth and heal and bless lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.—Wordsworth.

POETS' CORNER

DITTO

A fellow went often to see a fond friend—
The woman of wonders he loved to attend;
And the same sweet old story he'd tell o'er and o'er,
As he sat in her home or stood at the door.She chided him frequently told him she knew
That all her good attributes surely were true.
He told her how different she seemed from the rest,
And how his whole life by her friendship was blessed.It was the same story—she heard it each time.
'Twas always in prose though it might have been rhyme.
It spoke of her virtues, her ways and her voice,
And everything else that made her his choice.So she said to him once as he stood by her side:
"Just say the word 'Ditto' and that will abide.
I'll know you are saying the same as of yore,
When you're sitting within or you stand at my door."This saving of energy, saving of breath,
Helps lengthen the path to a premature death;
But though in one word the soul cannot say,
It's bound to conform to the whole NRA.

DIXON-MENDOTA CONTEST ENDED IN 7 TO 7 TIE

High School Teams In A Thriller Saturday: Lightweights Win

By Walter Minnihan
Saturday afternoon one of the most thrilling games of the season was played on the Mendota gridiron. Dixon started the scoring in the second quarter, taking advantage of a 40-yard run by Underwood and some nice punting by Henry and Kennedy. The extra point was made on a pass from Henry to Kennedy.

From then on Coach Lindell's warriors completely mastered the situation and were never threatened by Mendota until the final minutes. After Underwood kicked to Mendota's seven yard line, Andrews, the Mendota flash, carried the ball on a fake kick formation for 82 yards. He was tackled by Henry on the 18 yard line. After three plays failed, Andrews dropped back and passed to Tower for the touchdown. The seventh point was made by Andrews on a line smash.

Dixon received the kickoff and after a few plays, Henry passed to Andrews who made a sensational catch on the 20 yard line and ran to the 10 yard stripe before being tackled. Henry picked up six yards to the four yard line as the game ended the game.

First Quarter
Mendota kicked off to Dixon and Underwood returned it to the 35-yard line. Failing to gain, Dixon kicked to Andrews who made a nice return. The remainder of the quarter was more or less a punting duel with Dixon having the advantage on most of the kicks.

Second Quarter
The theory that a good offense is the best defense was displayed by the purple and white team as they led the ball most of the period. Starting from their own 40 yard stripe Dixon marched down the field and scored seven points. Mendota opened up a passing attack which was broken up by the alert Dixon backs. The half ended with Dixon plunging the Mendota line.

Third Quarter
The second half opened up with Mendota kicking off to Dixon. Mendota's line tightened and Dixon was forced to punt. Dixon's defense was very good and Mendota could not gain either by running or passing. Mendota had a good chance to score, however, on a fumble but could not penetrate the active Dixon line.

Fourth Quarter
Mendota punted to Dixon. Underwood made a remarkable return of 45 yards squirming and sidestepping away from several tacklers, but the safety man brought him down. Dixon failed to gain and kicked out of bounds on the seven yard line. Andrews then made his famous run which finally ended in a touchdown for Mendota.

The lineup:
DIXON: Bellows, LE; Knapp, LT; Reese, LG; Mossholder, C; Barnhart, RG; Cruthoff, RT; L. Miller, RE; Withers, QB; Underwood, LHB; Henry, RHB; Kennedy, FB.
MENDOTA: Pohl, J. Severson, L. Stevenson, C; Schmitt, Tasker, Yenerich, Bell, Tower, Andrews, Guikyle, Schib, Substitutions: Dixon: Muzzey for Cruthoff, Cruthoff for Reese; Mendota: Johnson for Guikyle, Crain for Bell.

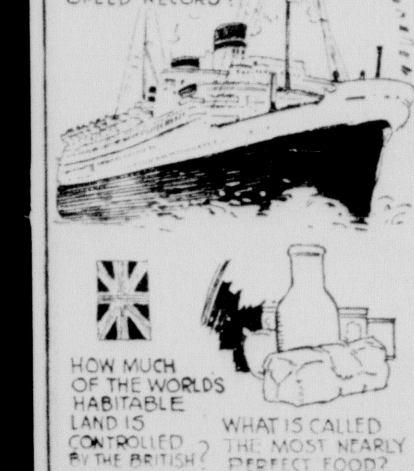

First downs: Dixon 9; Mendota, 9.
Touchdowns—Dixon—Kennedy, Mendota—Tower.
Points after touchdown—Dixon, pass—Henry to Kennedy, Mendota—pass, Andrews to Tower.

Lightweight Game
The Dixon Lightweights won their first game Saturday, beating Mendota, 7 to 0. The Dixon offense was clicking in great style the first half when the touchdown was scored. The Mendota defense was weak throughout the entire game, but the locals did not have the necessary punch to score in the second half.

The line-up:
Dixon: Curtis, le; Wirth, lg; Stultz, lg; Minnihan, c; B. Thompson, rt; D. Miller, rg; Ramsey, qb; Murphy, qb.
Mendota: Moore, le; Brogg, lg; Gilky, c; Pearson, rt; Littlewood, rg; Austin, qb; Gibbs, qb; Shapiro, qb.

BOB ZUPPKE AND HIS ILLINI ARE HEROES OF YEAR

Michigan Was Lucky To Beat Illinois Sat- urday Afternoon

BY PAUL MICKELSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Nov. 6—(AP)—Michigan can win, tie or lose in its relentless drive for a second successive Big Ten football championship—it all depends on Iowa, Minnesota and Northwestern now—but the hero of the campaign will be the crafty Dutch commander of the "Fighting Illini," Bob Zuppke.

With the magnificence of his strategy, he has reclaimed hope in the hearts of Michigan's rivals and convinced the Big Ten football world that Michigan, hauled afar as the "perfect team," can be beaten. More than that, he has pointed out, unsuspected weaknesses in the Wolverines armor that unquestionably will be corrected so as to make the Wolverines a far stronger team than heretofore. No team will catch Michigan napping.

Hawkeyes Inspired
Illinois' stand against the unbeaten Wolverines Saturday, a stand that might have been victorious with just one break, fired a new enthusiasm among Ossie Solem and his Iowa Hawkeyes today as they opened intensive preparations for Saturday's invasion of Michigan. Already the outstanding surprise of the race and with an easy game last week under their belts, the Hawkeyes were confident of giving the Wolverines a busy afternoon. Before the start of the season, the game was regarded as a setup for Michigan. Saturday, it will rank as one of the most important struggles of the season.

Saturday's card will be one of the most interesting of all with two other conference encounters and three important non-conference for the fans, who are making 1933 the biggest year at the gate since the boom days of 1929. Illinois invades Northwestern, Indiana tackles Chicago, Purdue meets Notre Dame for the championship of Indiana, Ohio State goes to Pennsylvania, and West Virginia travels to Wisconsin for intersectional skirmishes.

Kizer vs Anderson

Competing with the actual game between Purdue and Notre Dame will be the reaction of the fans to the appearance of Coach Noble Kizer of the Boiler-makers, picked by rumor as the man who will succeed Hearty "Hunk" Anderson as leader of the Ramblers next year. A former star at Notre Dame, Kizer always has been popular although he insists he is satisfied to stay at Purdue. A victory for Notre Dame not only would be a great upset, but would be a great triumph for the Anderson partisans. Nothing but a victory for Purdue, still in the Big Ten race was expected, however.

Illinois was a favorite to beat Northwestern, but the Wildcats have been in a habit of holding favorites to scoreless ties all season, among them Stanford and Minnesota. Ohio State, improving daily, rated an edge over Pennsylvania. Your guess was as good as another on the others.

THE "do or die" spirit of a player, when making a tackle of a runner in an open field, is commendable, but if the tackler goes about his job, forgetting all the fine points taught him, it is apt to be a painful experience for him.

Throwing oneself at two flying, cleated feet is more than a little dangerous if the action isn't performed right. One of those cleated feet, or a high-rising knee, is likely to strike the tackler.

The correct way to tackle from the side is to get a lot of leg drive and power, keep the eyes open and the head back. In this way the tackler can see just what the runner is going to do.

The big thing is to try to be going a bit faster than the runner. The slower of the two generally gets the most hurts.

The sketch shows the proper way to tackle low.

$25,000 Demanded for Her "Safety"

Would-be-abductors of Mrs. Thelma Jarvis (above) of Philadelphia probably didn't like the risk of an actual kidnapping. So they're sent a note to her father demanding $25,000—just to "insure" her safety.

Principal and interest payments on the $300,000 bond issue and the $200,000 relief issue of 1932 will require $4,000,000 a year on the average, Horner said, leaving $26,000,000 annually to the state, counties and municipalities for road construction.

BOND ISSUE OP- PONENTS ARE OB- STRUCTIONISTS

—GOV. HENRY HORNER

State's Chief Executive Issues Statement On Issue

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6 — (AP)—Taxpayers were asked today by Governor Horner to support his $300,000 relief bond program so that property levies can be reduced after Jan. 1 through the sales tax.

Branding his opponents as obstructionists and declaring that counter proposals for relief were designed to make it impossible for the Horner administration to abate the state property tax, the Governor issued a statement summarizing the special session situation as follows:

"Some of the opponents to the bond issue relief plan are advocating measures that would force an increase of taxes on general property. They would have the legislature and the administration barter away a substantial real estate tax reduction for their plan which contemplates an increase in taxes."

"I am sure the taxpayers who are alive to the danger would not endorse such action."

Proposals Opposed
The sales tax law provides that the 18 months starting Jan. 1 are to be used for reduction or elimination of the state tax of 50 cents on each $100 assessed property valuation. Downstate opponents of bond issue have proposed that, as an alternative, the cost of relief be borne by diverting the gasoline and sales taxes.

Horner's statement was issued last night at the opening of the sixth week of the first special session. The legislators will meet tomorrow, and the administration is apparently confident that final approval of the bond plan can be obtained in the House by Wednesday. This would permit sine die adjournment this week.

Didn't Name I. A. A.
Although not directly naming the Illinois Agricultural Association the statement said "one group of our citizens, who likewise have always urged reduction of taxes on real estate, are also endangering immediate tax relief by obstructionist tactics to prevent the present state administration from carrying out pledge to lower taxes on real estate."

The Governor's statement also said: "Legislators standing in the way of a substantial reduction in taxes in 1934 cannot plead ignorance. They know that their plans would prevent a reduction in taxes, and would compel the levying of a state tax to offset the diversions to relief of proceeds of the retailers' occupational sales tax."

"Test of Sincerity"
"How these legislators can justify their position to their constituents, who long have been demanding real estate tax relief, is beyond my power of comprehension. Everyone of them has claimed to be an advocate of real estate tax relief in the past. Yet this test of their sincerity finds them urging an increase in state taxes, x x x x x"

"Furthermore, I am convinced that the general public is not aware of the fact that the majority of the counter proposals offered by the opponents of the bond issue plan would compel downstate taxpayers to pay a large portion of the unemployment relief costs in Chicago and Cook county. I am certain that downstate taxpayers have not been told the facts in this respect."

Principal and interest payments on the $300,000 bond issue and the $200,000 relief issue of 1932 will require $4,000,000 a year on the average, Horner said, leaving $26,000,000 annually to the state, counties and municipalities for road construction.

Washington, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The United States intends to cancel its extradition treaty with Greece because it considers that country's decision in refusing to send Samuel Insull back to America for trial on a federal indictment is "utterly untenable."

A message to this effect is being delivered to the Greek Foreign Affairs Minister by Lincoln MacVeagh, American Minister at Athens.

Saying "it is apparent that this treaty x x x cannot be relied upon to effect the extradition of fugitives who have fled to Greece," the message gives "formal notice herewith of my government's denunciation of the treaty with a view to its termination at the earliest date possible."

That date, officials say, is one year after the formal notice.

Extradition of the former utilities magnate to answer a Cook county, Ill. indictment was denied several months ago. Officials had felt, until the refusal last week, that the requisition on a subsequent federal bankruptcy charge would be honored.

CALL FACT "WORTHLESS"
Athens, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Denouncing the extradition treaty as worthless, in view of the verdict in the case of Samuel Insull, Sr., a strong United States protest was handed by Lincoln MacVeagh, the American Minister, to the Director of the Foreign Ministry today.

The Foreign Minister himself was absent at Salonica.

The protest expressed astonishment at the Appeal Court's verdict in refusing to allow Insull to be extradited to face charges in connection with the collapse of his utilities interests.

It protested that the court was trying the case by going into the substance of the accusations.

Premier Tsaldaris in an interview declared he had requested the Ministry of Justice to go through the file in the Insull case and determine whether anything important escaped the court.

He expressed his personal opinion that Greek justice stands as the highest and also expressed regret that the United States is so persistent and attaches so much importance to the court's verdict.

Referring to the United States' desire to renounce the treaty, he said this was their privilege, but added that before it could become effective a certain time must elapse since it is impossible to renounce the treaty on a day's notice.

HISTORY FRENCH LICK, INDIANA, IS INTERESTING

Dixonites Find Much Enjoyment In Visit To Health Resort

Recently a party of Dixonites had the pleasure of a visit to French Lick Springs hotel, and report complete satisfaction and enjoyment in the many attractions offered by the hotel under the management of H. J. Pauett.

Nearly two hundred years ago, a French trading post was established at French Lick. That accounts in part for the name by which this famous resort is known today. For at least five hundred years prior to that time, what is now French Lick was the hunting ground of the Indian. It was then a congregating place for wild animals; indeed, it was from this fact that French Lick received the latter portion of its name.

In the early days, deer came to the springs to lick the water and wet rocks, the minerals in the water acting as a natural tonic. The first settlers found numerous pathways, made by the deer, leading to the springs from every direction. Thus, the region became known as "The Lick."

About 1811, a permanent settlement was established at French Lick, one of the first immigrants being a man named Joel Charles. A fort was erected for protection against the Indians. In 1812 one of the settlers, William Charles, a relative of Joel, was scalped by the Indians, outside the fort.

The population of French Lick had increased by 1817 until there were twenty-four men of voting age, and it was felt that a civil form of government should be inaugurated. As a consequence, Joel Charles was elected the first Justice of the Peace.

It was said by the Indians that silver and lead in unlimited quantities were to be found in caves

Seized as Shield By Thug; Slain

Seized by a fleeing robber for a shield while he waged a gun duel with police, Miss Edna Kingsley, 26, above, Toledo, O., stenographer, was slain by a bullet from the bandit's pistol as she struggled to escape. The robber, Donald J. Elliott, 26, was captured and charged with murder.

and mines about French Lick. Due to friction between the Indians and the whites, the Indians were careful to conceal this reputed wealth, and when they left the country the secret of its existence went with them.

About 1850, interest was renewed by the appearance in French Lick of two strangers who claimed to have come from Canada where they had secured from an old Indian squaw, a former resident of the French Lick region, directions for finding silver and lead in a cave about three miles from French Lick.

So pure was this metal, according to the squaw, that the Indians had chopped it out with tomahawks. Excitement about the settlement was intense and men from all about joined in the big search. But to no avail; either the metals were a myth of the Indians or the secret had been carried away by the Indians for all time.

It was at first felt that the lands surrounding the springs could be utilized for the manufacture of salt and they were consequently reserved for this purpose. It was found, however, that they were valueless for this use, and on being put up for sale, were purchased in 1832 by William A. Bowles, doctor of considerable renown, a statesman, soldier and leading figure in the community.

Dr. Bowles built the first hotel at French Lick Springs about 1840. It was an ungainly frame building, but the fame of the waters at French Lick Springs soon became widely known, and the hotel was well patronized.

Guests at the hotel came and went in creaking wagons and it was a common sight to see the home-going wagons laden not only with luggage and human freight but with jugs and containers of various sorts filled with quantities of the waters with which the visitors could continue their treatment at home.

Later the doctor conceived the idea of boiling down the water, so his guests might carry away larger quantities of the medicinal properties in smaller packages. The idea, which proved an immediate success, was the nucleus of the present day method of concentrating and bottling Pluto water for distribution all over the world.

Dr. Bowles retained possession of the property a total period of forty one years. Following his death in 1873 the hotel passed into other hands, and in 1891 it was taken over by the present corporation of which the late Senator Thomas A. Taggart was the head. Under Taggart's guiding hand work was soon commenced on the construction of an immense and beautiful fireproof structure to replace the old building. This and other substantial improvements marked the beginning of a development which quickly brought the French Lick Springs Hotel to a leading position among resort hotels of America, a position which it holds today.

The French Lick Springs Hotel property today covers 4,000 acres of ground. A good part of the products used in the dining rooms are produced on this acreage.

We operate a model dairy farm, where a registered herd, electrically milked, produces all the creamery products used by this hotel. All of our ice cream is made in this dairy.

A large part of the pork, veal, poultry and eggs is procured from local farms in the valley, leaving only a small portion of our produce to be procured from outside markets.

The hotel itself, seven stories high, has seven hundred rooms and contains more than 25 acres of floor space. The hotel operates its own electric light plant, its own power plant, its own water plant and a laundry adequate for a town of 20,000 inhabitants. A car load of coal is consumed daily for generating power.

These figures are but suggestive of the immensity of the present establishment. It is in many respects a city in itself. # TWO CHAMPIONS MAY BE KNOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

Rest Of the Gridiron Contenders Must Wait Another Week

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer).
New York, Nov. 6 — (AP)— Two of the country's nine major football championships may be settled this week but the rest will have to await developments of Nov. 18 or later.

With a full month yet to go before some of the final returns are in, the championship races looked about like this today:

BIG SIX: Nebraska can clinch the title beyond dispute by beating Kansas this week.

MISSOURI VALLEY: Drake will win the crown if the Bulldogs spill Oklahoma A. & M. If the champion Aggies beat Drake and then Creighton, they'll finish with a perfect conference record of two victories, no defeats.

EAST: Army, Princeton and Duquesne, the sole remaining undefeated and untied teams with the first two conceded the best chance of winding up that way.

BIG TEN: The elimination of Illinois left only Michigan, Purdue and at the outside, Minnesota, to carry on Minnesota's tussle with Michigan may be decisive.

SOUTHWEST: Texas and Arkansas, the only defeated teams, meet Friday, Nov. 24.

PACIFIC: Oregon, Oregon State and Southern California still in the running but the first two clash this week.

SOUTHEASTERN: Georgia, the only unbeaten and untied team, looks best but Alabama, Louisiana State, Mississippi and Vanderbilt, all undefeated but tied can step in if the Georgians falter.

SOUTHERN: Duke, So. Carolina, North Carolina and Washington & Lee survive.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN: Utah leads with Denver and the Colorado Aggies a step behind.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE

This week's schedule is devoted almost entirely to sectional warfare with only four major inter-sectional tests on the card. The principal features of the week, by sections, follow:

EAST: Duquesne's unbeaten record may go by the boards to the battle with the Pitt Panthers but Princeton looks too strong for Dartmouth and Army should continue its sweep at Harvard's expense. Georgia's invasion of New Haven to meet the Yale Bulldogs tops an inter-sectional program marked otherwise by Ohio State's trip east to play Penn. Carnegie Tech's tangle with Michigan State at East Lansing and West Virginia's contest with Wisconsin at Madison. Fordham, its Rose Bowl hopes ruined by St. Mary's, meets New York University. Other leading pairings send Navy against Columbia, Villanova against Boston College, Syracuse against Brown and Rutgers against Lafayette.

BIG TEN: Tested by Illinois, Michigan may find Iowa just about as tough in the important duel of a conference slate that also sends Northwestern against Illinois and Chicago against Indiana. Purdue will travel to South Bend to see whether it's possible for a Notre Dame team to lose four games in succession.

BIG SIX: The Nebraska-Kansas game tops the program by common consent. Iowa State plays Kansas State and Oklahoma meets Missouri.

PACIFIC COAST: Southern California's struggle with Stanford is the outstanding feature although the Oregon-Oregon State match may carry more championship significance. If Oregon should win then the Southern California-Oregon game of Nov. 18 may be decisive.

AN OREGON STATE victory, on the other hand, will enable that team to finish its conference schedule with three victories and a scoreless tie with Southern California, California and Washington, Washington State and Idaho, collide in other conference games this week.

SOUTH: Mississippi's Southeastern title hopes will be tested by Tennessee but Vanderbilt should continue in the running at Sewanee's expense. Florida and Georgia Tech, Tulane and Mississippi State square off in other conference tests while Alabama and Kentucky are facing Southern Conference foes in Virginia Poly and Virginia Military respectively. Within the Southern Conference itself, Duke should continue its winning streak at Maryland's expense and South Carolina looks superior to North

Blue Eagle Is Her Mascot

The Blue Eagle and Miss Mary Hughes are inseparable. She's the national head of the women's NRA division, and as she stopped in Pittsburgh on a whirlwind tour of the country to organize feminine support for the NRA, Miss Hughes displayed a style that may become popular—a Blue Eagle scarf.

Carolina State, Washington & Lee, another contender, stacks up against Virginia.

SOUTHWEST: Texas vs. Baylor and Arkansas vs. Rice are the principal pairings with Texas A. & M. encountering Southern Methodist. Texas Christian plays North Dakota in an inter-sectional battle.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN: Utah will be tested by Colorado University and the Colorado Aggies by Utah Aggies. Denver, the other contender, meets Hawaii.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TO BE AMERICA'S GREATEST STUNT GIRL

A SUDDEN NERVE-RACKING swing upward from a racing auto into a hurtling plane... It's all in the day's work for Mary Wiggins, famous stunt girl who also dives on fire into fire and does the suspension glide in mid-air while hanging only by her teeth. It means something when she says, "Camels never give me edgy nerves even when I smoke a lot."

JOE: I'm so glad to see you, Sue. Were you nervous during your first flight?

SUE: Not a bit. I smoked Camels all the way, and I never felt better! I haven't worried about nerves since I took your advice and changed to Camels.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

LISTEN TO MARY WIGGINS, greatest of all girl stunt performers. She says:

"I have to be sure my nerves are healthy to do my stunts, changing from a speeding auto to a plane, the high dive on fire into fire, wing walking while up in a plane, and the high-altitude parachute jump. As to smoking, I've found that Camels don't interfere with healthy nerves. I've tried all the brands. Camels are milder and better in flavor. They do not give me edgy nerves even when I am smoking a lot."

You'll like that rich Camel flavor and mildness. And your nerves will tell you the difference there is in Camel's costlier tobaccos.

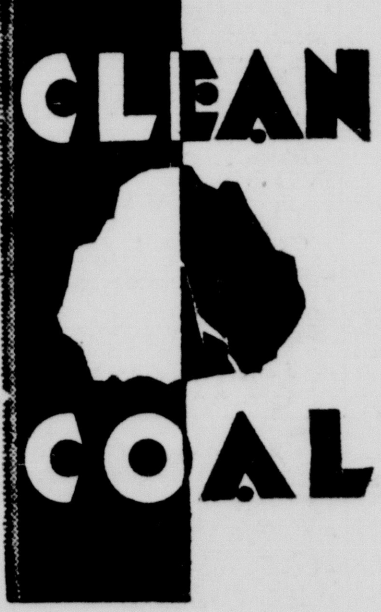

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.
